THEIR NEED

When Hurricane Katrina struck the Gulf States, one of its many victims was the dialysis clinic just north of New Orleans. DaVita wanted to recover quickly, however the building needed to be a permanent solution, rather than a temporary stop-gap measure.

OUR SOLUTION

The customer turned to our distributor (MedBuild), an expert in the construction of medical buildings. The customer chose Whitley for two reasons: speed and trust. Whitley and Medbuild had recently completed a similar project for the company with great results. Off-site construction began in November, while the site was being prepared by Medbuild. Less than 100 days later, the building was open and providing services.
